BE CAUTIOUS WHEN DOWNLOADING ANY THIRD PARTY SOFTWARE

Any time you install a new program you automatically change the system's Registry. Therefore, it is advisable that you create a System Restore Point prior to the installation. To do this, go to Search bar > type create a restore point > then click on create a restore point button that appears at the top of the column > finally, click on the create button and follow the steps that follow. If something goes array after installing a new program, follow the above path to restore Windows to the point you created.
