

How to change your computer's Theme

Historically, Windows themes have been used to customize desktop backgrounds, icons, user interface colors, Windows sounds and mouse cursors. Right-click on the Desktop, then click on Personalize. Select Themes from the left column and then Themes Settings in the right-column. From there you can choose from My Themes, Windows Default Themes, and High Contrast Themes. If you want more options, click on Get more themes online. You will be taken to a Microsoft Website where you will have hundreds of theme choices and dozens of pictures within each theme.
