

MINIMIZE THE DATA SENT TO MICROSOFT

Win 10 collects and sends to Microsoft a lot of data about our computers and what we do with it. Some of this information is necessary to keep Windows running and secure, but Microsoft overreaches by default.

To minimize the information that is sent to Microsoft, open Settings (Windows + I) and click Privacy, then Feedback & Diagnostics. Click “Send your device data to Microsoft” and then select “Basic” from the pulldown menu.
