

Set your default apps

This is a step a lot of people overlook. By default, Windows 10 sets several common file types to open with Modern-style apps.

It's easy to use the Defaults option, which you'll find in Settings (Windows + I), then click System, then Default Apps.