

Turn websites into Apps

You can more easily manage a website by turning it into an app with Microsoft Edge. By doing this, the site can be pinned to your desktop, the taskbar, or the all apps menu.

Set this up by first going to the target site via Edge. Once there, click the Settings icon (three dots in upper right corner) and select Apps.

1. Select the “Install this site as an app” option, name the app, then click install.
2. The site opens in a separate window. To manage sites installed as apps, go back to the setting for Apps and select the Manage apps options: pin to taskbar, pin to start, create desktop, and autostart.
3. The website will now appear in the designated location that you chose.
