

USE THE DYNAMIC THEME APP

The dynamic theme app, a free download from the Microsoft Store, will have your background and lock screen images get changed regularly with stunning images. You will get to see images from Bing daily and Windows Spotlight. Although Bing provides an option to save the image of the day, for Windows Spotlight images you must do it manually.

Set Bing and Spotlight as desktop background and lock screen images

The Dynamic Theme app for Windows 10 computers (as mentioned earlier as being available free for download and installation from the Microsoft Store) does all this automatically. It provides an option to use Bing images and Windows Spotlight images to be used as background and lock screen images. Not only that, it can save these images to a folder of your choice. Apart from that, it has many other options and a nice Windows Settings-like interface.

Once you have it installed from the Microsoft Store, open the Dynamic Theme app from the Start Menu.

Setting Background: The Background image can be set by opening the Dynamic Theme app from the Start menu.

Another nice feature is that you can save the daily Bing image in the folder of your choice.

Another feature is the choice of the region from which you want to get the daily Bing images. It provides a list of countries from which to choose.

And these settings can be synchronized across devices.

Daily Windows Spotlight image: The various options provided for setting Daily Windows Spotlight images are the same as for setting the Daily Bing images.

The choice of region for Windows Spotlight is not available as the Spotlight image is the same across region. However, the Windows Spotlight images can be saved to a folder of your choice.

Finally, after you click on preview of the daily image and are taken to the Desktop, you can go back to Settings by click on the left-pointing arrow in the upper left corner of the desktop window.
