

ITUNES OR SPOTIFY: MUSIC CLIENTS FOR CASUAL LISTENERS

Some people find it relaxing to have music playing in the background while they work on other computer tasks. The exact music client you'll want will depend on whether you've already bought into a service, naturally. For casual listeners, you may wish to try two programs: iTunes and Spotify.

The iTunes Windows client gets the job done—and that job includes giving you access to a vast universe of premium music downloads. Spotify, meanwhile, is an all-you-can-eat streaming service with millions of top-tier tunes available, all for free if you don't mind listening to a few ads.
